United States of America - In response to the rising political extremism that has divided the nation, a bold new grassroots movement has emerged: 1Party. Designed as a viable alternative to the dysfunctional two-party system, 1Party is dedicated to uniting moderates, independents, and disillusioned voters who are tired of being forced to choose between extremes.

"For too long, we have been trapped in a cycle of political dysfunction, where Americans are forced to vote for the lesser of two evils," said a representative of 1Party, who remains anonymous for security reasons. "1Party isn't just another third party-it's a movement to rebuild a system that truly represents the people."

1Party seeks to leverage history, political science, social psychology, and the power of social media to create an unprecedented, self-sustaining movement. The initiative is focused on realigning American politics toward collaboration, problem-solving, and policy over partisanship.

Key Objectives of 1Party:

- Break Free from Extremes: Offering a pragmatic, common-sense alternative that prioritizes the people over partisan agendas.
- Unite Disillusioned Voters: Providing a home for those who feel politically homeless due to the failures of both major parties.
- Create a Lasting Political Movement: Unlike failed third-party attempts, 1Party is designed for long-term impact, focusing on grassroots mobilization and structural reform.
- Leverage Modern Tools for Change: Utilizing behavioral psychology, digital engagement strategies, and mass outreach techniques to spark a nationwide movement.

1Party is currently calling on moderates, independents, and frustrated voters to sign the commitment form at <https://tinyurl.com/vtad988f> and become part of the movement.

"We are not politicians, we are not billionaires-we are regular Americans who refuse to sit back while our country is pulled apart," said the 1Party representative. "If you've ever felt politically displaced, 1Party is for you."

The newly launched 1Party website at <https://1party.org> serves as the central hub for the movement. Visitors can utilize the site to join 1Party, access letter templates for outreach to friends, family, and colleagues, review the movement's guiding principles and detailed plans, view videos, and take a political alignment quiz. For additional information, please contact 1partyforall@gmail.com. 1Party is also launching the #WetSpoonChallenge this Friday, May 23. This viral initiative aims to raise awareness; find instructions by searching the hashtag.
